Supervisors Unaware Of Building Code Acceptance

Jaycees-Civic Assm. Reveal Action Plans

"Tomorrow's County" was the topic of discussion Tuesday night, when a joint meeting of Bay St. Louis Jaycees and Waveland's Civic Association presented to influential and opinion molding citizens, plans initially formulated by the Mississippi Economic Council (the State Chamber of Commerce) for the guide lines needed in building a better community.

On the program were Bobby Poudin, president of the Bay St. Louis Jaycees and Tommy Kidd of the Waveland Civic Association who were assisted by Paul Vegas, a member of the Jaycees. Vegas displayed a "flip chart" with a rating-type questionnaire on the subject of conditions of Road Maintenance. It was suggested that a rating of 75 per cent would be minimum requirements for a modern present-day system. It was revealed that Hancock County today rates only 10 per cent. A concerted effort will be made by the group to bring this rating up to standard. Other areas felt to be below standard according to the "TOMORROW'S COUNTY" guide lines will be studied by the group with a view to implementing changes and improvements.

An enthusiastic audience eager to develop a more progressive community and willing to cooperate in the endeavor included representatives from the Bay-Waveland Garden Club, 100 Men's Club, Community Relations Council, Sportsmen's Club, American Legion of Waveland, Better Government Committee, Veterans of Foreign Wars of Waveland, Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, Waveland Civic Association and Bay St. Louis Jaycees. Religious groups including

At a meeting of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, held on Tuesday, members of the Board expressed surprise when told that when they adopted the Southern Building Code by Unanimous vote on May 4, 1970, they had in fact made compliance of the code specifications a law and were charged with the responsibility of enforcement of this law.

Board members said they needed briefing and some education about the Building Code, and expressed the opinion that some publicity in news papers should have given public information concerning the procedure. On Page 8 Sec. A of this paper is a re-print of Page 1, May 7, 1970 edition of the Sea Coast Echo, in which a 5 column headline announced COUNTY BUILDING CODE ADOPTED BY SUPERVISORS.

Members of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors on Tuesday morning said they were not aware they had voted in a county-wide building code and asked that more information be provided by E. "Scotty" Thomson, who is a professional engineer and a building official for the Mississippi Governor's Emergency Council.

Protest Meter Readings

Protests are coming in from consumers who believe their water meter readings to be erroneous this month, according to Commissioner William Frisbie who said "numerous calls" had been received in his office. Frisbie said the data system had given a great deal of trouble and advocated that the city revert to an earlier system of book keeping and rendering bills to customers.

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors voted into law the "Southern Standard Building Code", declared Thomson, "and it is now the duty of this Board to enforce the law. This code will protect the citizens of this County who are having construction work done."

This hearing grew out of an alleged incident in which an inspector was refused admission and "run off the property" when he appeared for the purpose of making a routine inspection. Thomson said inspectors were qualified and were required to make at least three building inspections to protect home owners against faulty workmanship during the construction of their homes, that could necessitate costly repairs later, prevent them from becoming eligible for insurance protection, and also the inspections would protect them against unscrupulous individuals who could otherwise get by with substandard materials and construction practices which could leave their homes vulnerable to hurricanes and tornadoes.

Thomson said his inspectors were instructed to explain their purpose and were not to force entrance, but if they encountered opposition when making inspections they were to report to the sheriff. "It is up to the Board of Supervisors and the law enforcement officers to see that these mandatory inspections are carried out," declared Thomson.

These inspections are required in order that a building be given a "Certificate of Occupancy". In explaining the inspections, Thomson said: "These inspections are provided for the protection of the individual," and added "The first inspection is made following excavation of the foundation and before the concrete is poured."

Thomson said work would not be delayed since an advance notice of only one day is required prior to inspection. The second mandatory inspection occurs when the frame work is "blacked in" and final inspection comes when the interior work is completed, including ceiling, panelling, air conditioning, cupboards, plumbing, fixtures, etc.

Thomson said "An examining board should be established so that Master Plumbers and Master Electricians from outside the county could be examined to determine their qualifications to perform work properly." He added this would prevent "fly-by-night" or unqualified workers from being employed in the construction of homes within the county. He said the "grandfather clause" would be honored and those women within the county who had a long and satisfactory record of employment would not be required to take tests and secure permits to work.

The building code specifies "Hurricane Clips" designed to keep a building intact during gale and hurricane winds. Thomson said he had an office in the Gulf National Bank on Highway 90 in Bay St. Louis and those planning to build in the county should bring tax records and a plan showing what construction is to be undertaken to this office. The builder will then be advised of any changes that may be needed in order to comply with the Code specifications. The cost of the safety material is estimated at approximately one-half of one per cent of the cost of the job, according to some contractors.

No member of the Board of Supervisors said that he was familiar with the Code requirements and agreed that the public should be educated through the columns of newspapers concerning specifications and procedures of the Building Code. Releases are expected to be sent out by the Board of Supervisors following next Monday's meeting.

Citizen Ask Enforcement

Mrs. Sam Whitfield appeared before the City Council of Bay St. Louis on Tuesday and appealed to commissioners to enforce an ordinance written into the laws requiring that vacant properties as well as occupied properties in the city be maintained and cleaned. Mrs. Whitfield said provisions in the ordinance would allow the City to have objectionable property cleaned, cleaned, or moved and to add the cost of this work to the owner's tax statement.

Mayor Carver said the allowable charges as outlined in the ordinance were up to the sum of one hundred dollars,

CLUB MEETING

Bay-Waveland Garden Club executive board met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Leo Seal with Mrs. George L. Seuzensau, Club president, and Mrs. Seal as hostesses.

The board recommended that the club accept three new members. Projects for the coming year were discussed by the group. There were 26 board members and a guest, Mrs. Herman Mazarakis, attending.

however, before the city could have such work done it would first be necessary to contact the owners, giving them a three week's advance notice in which to correct conditions. Carver added that he had sent letters to some property owners requesting that they have their property cleaned. He said other letters would go out.

Clear up is past schedule on city property, Carver said, and added there had been a break down of moving equipment and also heavy rainfalls that caused unprecedented growth of weeds and grass. A city wide cleanup day for Bay St. Louis is planned and citizens are urged to respond to the request of the mayor and commissioners and clear their property of litter and weeds.

Board Seeks Extension

As a result of a recent meeting with HUD officials, Waveland Town Board members have directed Upturn administrator H. J. Hughes to prepare a mandatory application to extend through December 31, 1971. The existing programs are scheduled to end this December 23, according to the original application approval.

Explaining the reason for the extension request, Hughes stated that the major portion of Interim Assistance Program activity has been held in abeyance due to the Corps of Engineers and Office of Emergency Preparedness efforts under Public Law 915.

"Now that we have been in operation six months," Hughes (Cont. on Page 8-A.)

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

My credit was not good enough to build. We are giving up and moving west.

I purchased this piece of ground, not for speculation, but to build a dream upon.

It is unquestionably the most beautiful spot in it's price range in this area.

It is in the city limits of Bay St. Louis.

It has one oak tree, about 15 pines, and many flowers and shrubs.

It crosses a small lagoon with excellent fishing.

Across the lagoon is a marsh, and across the marsh is a view of the bay, and of fantastically beautiful sunsets.

There is part of a house sitting where the storm left it. The rest of the house has been dismantled and is stacked nearby.

All the utilities were connected, and the connections are still there.

It is very secluded - only the backs of two other houses are visible a block away.

It is 950 feet from the sea wall.

The price is $2,000. No terms available.

Please be gentle, it's something we love.

JACK HUSBAND 467-9851

Showing
Sunday

An Art Showing comprised of 45 children was on at the Webb Center on Sunday afternoon and marked the first of an operation program for people between the ages of 10 through 18 years. Miss Loom, instructor, found fine talent among her students who were taught concepts of abstract art, oil paintings, and oils.

Miss Battalora, age 8, displayed an excellent study of a man and woman and graduated from the full-blown program. Her work was praised by Miss Loom. Kathy Webb, age 10, showed a fine drawing of a horse. John Johnson, age 11, showed an excellent shading of a horse. Cheryl, age 17, shows fine work in drawing. Her drawing of a horse was praised by Miss Loom. Her drawing of a horse was praised by Miss Loom.

MAYOR WARREN J. CARVER examines art work displayed on Sunday at the Webb Center as two of the students taught by Miss Mary Loom eagerly study his facial expressions. Evidently the Mayor is pleased with the work and with the summer recreational project sponsored by Operation Upturn. 45 students enrolled for these classes.

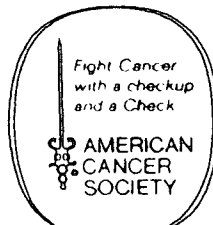

Fund Appeal Continued

"It is not too late," said Mrs. Thelma Kergosien, "to help Hancock County's unit of the American Red Cross to reach the quota for Celia Victims." The quota was set at only $214, according to Mrs. Kergosien who added another $44 is still needed if the quota is to be met.

Mrs. Kergosien said those wishing to send contributions should address them Care of the American Red Cross Hancock County Chapter, P.O. Box 149.

Remembering the help given to Hancock County during the after-Camille days, Mrs. Kergosien said she believes the quota will be met in appreciation. "All we need," she explained is for forty-four people to send just one dollar."

Council Meeting

Jos. Marochino and Frank Lagarde were appointed as members of the Board of Adjustment by the Mayor and City Commissioners at a Council meeting held on Tuesday morning at the City Hall.

Also at this meeting the need for an air compressor in the Utility Department was pointed out. The city has used equipment belonging to the County and it was said the air compressor has now served its usefulness.
By unanimous vote the councilmen agreed to advertise for a bid on the purchase price of this equipment.

A bid will also be invited for the purchase of an E. B. Dick copying machine or a similar machine. The city is now using a rental copying machine and feels that to own this equipment would represent a substantial savings to tax payers over a period of time.

The overall increase denied amounted to 15.4 percent.

In addition to the changes on private passenger automobile coverage, the commission approved an overall decrease of 2.2 percent for commercial vehicles.

The effect of the increases will be approximately $3 million annually, which is $2.8 million less than that requested by the companies.

Gibson emphasized that the rate change does not affect all companies, and will not affect 80 percent of Mississippi's policyholders.

From A to Z

By Bibb O. Phil

To find information in books quickly and wisely, it is necessary to know about the printed parts of a book and their arrangement. The parts explained here are given in the order in which they usually appear. However, not all books have all the parts mentioned.

TITLE PAGE. It is the right hand page near the front of the book which contains the name of the book (title), the author, publisher, and the place of publication. Sometimes there is a subtitle (printed directly beneath the title) which is added to give a better idea of the scope of the book. Further information about the author is also sometimes given. This is especially important in books on scientific or historical subjects, as it helps to show whether the author is a prominent authority on the subject.

The publisher's name and the date and place of publication is given at the bottom of the title page.

COPYRIGHT. The date on the title page merely indicates when the book was printed. The date on the reverse side is much more important, as it indicates when the book was actually copyrighted, and this usually is the date the book was completed.

DEDICATION. It is just the author's way of showing gratitude or affection for, someone or something.

PREFACE. Some authors or editors use the term foreword instead of preface. In general the three terms are synonymous. It usually tells for whom the book is intended, what the aims of the book are, and how to use it. Sometimes it acknowledges help the author received in writing it, or includes general remarks about the subject.

CONTENTS. The table of contents is always in the front of the book and lists the chapters or units or articles in the order in which they appear.

LISTS OF MAPS AND ILLUSTRATIONS. History and geography books very often include a list of the maps and charts used. Novels and books of scientific or artistic nature frequently contain lists of the illustrations used.

BODY OF THE BOOK. The body is the main part of the book; it is sometimes called the text.

BIBLIOGRAPHY. Instead of the word bibliography some authors use the term reference list or authorities or reading. In this connection they all refer to a list of books and articles on a particular subject. Sometimes the list is intended to suggest material for further study and sometimes to indicate that books the author used in gathering some of his information.

INDEX. The index is usually found on the last few pages of the book. To understand any index, it is important to read the key which is found at the top of the first page of the index. In sets of books, the index is usually found in the last volume. Sometimes each volume has its own index, and sometimes both methods are used.

APPENDIX. Found near the back of the book, this is material that is not really part of the text, but which is closely related to it.

GLOSSARY AND VOCABULARY. Books written in foreign languages, in old forms of English, in dialect, or in scientific language peculiar to the subject of the book, often contain vocabularies or glossaries which resemble small dictionaries.

Stone Defeats
Bay High 12-6

The Bay High Tigers were defeated last Friday night by the Stone Tomcats 12-6. Defense was the major factor in the game and it was this that put Stone ahead.

The Tomcats took a 6-0 lead with only 3:30 minutes remaining in the second quarter with a one-yard quarterback sneak by Edward Danzey. Bay High, coached by J. E. Lolicano scored with 8:43 seconds left on the clock in the second period to tie the score. Mike Lynnel scored on a 14-yard pass from quarterback Gary Blaise. An extra point attempt failed and the score stood 6-6.

Stone scored the final touchdown with 3:57 minutes left in the final period and Bay High could not come back.

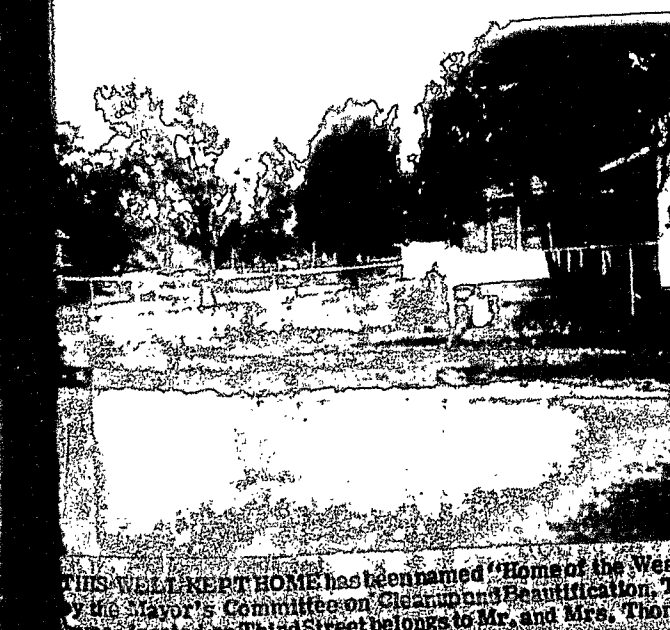

Bay High will play their first home game this Friday night against Pass Christian.

Exchange Vows in New Orleans

A late summer wedding of interest was that of Miss Susan Shaw, daughter of Commander and Mrs. Howard Shaw, Jr., formerly of Riverdale, California, now making her home in Bay St. Louis, to William Fletcher Mason, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Mason, Sr., of Roanoke, Va.

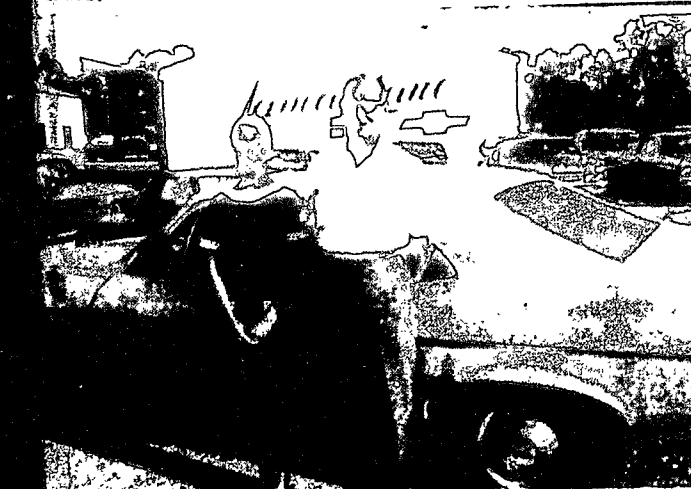

The ceremony was held at the St. James Memorial Methodist Church, New Orleans, was the setting for the 8:30 candlelight ceremony performed by Dr. G. G. Galloway. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of silk organza and a high neckline, empire bodice and long sleeves adorned with deep pearls. The gown was complemented by a long imported chantilly mantilla; the graceful headpiece fell from a cluster of chantilly flowerlets. She carried a bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Irwin Tunis of New Orleans was her cousin's maid of honor; and the other attendants were Miss Diane Lewis, New Orleans, and Mrs. Davis Burrows, sister of the groom, of Orlando, Fla. Mrs. Donald Rutherford of Loma Linda, Calif., Miss Peggy Ulmer of Riverside, Calif., and Miss Doreen Knapp of Placeville, Calif.

Party Given

A surprise party was given Miss Nikki Romanoff Saturday evening on the occasion of her 18th birthday.

Hosted by a group of close friends, the party was held in the home of Miss Marilyn McDonald on Joe's Bayou Road. Those helping to celebrate were Misses Tish McCaleb, Bobbi Rutledge, Wendy McDonald, Patti Green and Mrs. Susan Rhodes.

FIRST CAR FOR MISS DEBBIE SICK, HERE BARON OF LAMAR-LANE CHEVROLET HANDLED THE TRANSACTION OF NEW CHEVY COUPE.

Miss Debbie Sick of Bay St. Louis wanted to own a car of her own and since her mother and father liked the manner in which Mr. Baron handled deals for them on new cars, she naturally went to see him for her first car. Her Baron of Lamar-Lane Chevrolet arranged everything to Miss Sick's entire satisfaction, and she knew he would, and she is very happy with her new car. Now Miss Sick has a new Chevy Coupe of her own for transportation to her job at Coast Electric, and she is very proud of her car and the way she was treated at Lamar-Lane Chevrolet by Mr. Baron and everyone else associated with Lamar-Lane Chevrolet. If you're thinking about buying a new car or truck, visit Lamar-Lane Chevrolet and ask for salesman Joe Bermond. He could save you many dollars.

Wade-Roberts Exchange Vows

Miss Joann Wade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Wade of Bay St. Louis, became the bride of Ronnie Edward Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Roberts of Mount Olive, Miss., in a double ring ceremony at 7:30 p.m. September 2 in the First Baptist Church with Rev. Perry Neal, pastor officiating.

The groom graduated from Prentiss High School and attended P.R.C. He is now attending the University of Southern Mississippi.

The couple will make their home in Hattiesburg.

Mrs. Glendal Walters, organist, played the traditional wedding marches. Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a street length white silk shift styled dress trimmed with a lace panel down the front. A corsage of white and blue carnations completed her ensemble.

Mrs. Alfred J. Marshall of Bay St. Louis, was her sister's attendant and Jimmy Roberts served his brother as best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride.

The bride's table, overlaid with a lace cloth, held a two-tiered cake trimmed with pale yellow spun sugar roses.

After the bride and groom cut the first slice of cake it was cut and served by Mrs. Don Marshall. Miss Phyllis Jean Wade, sister of the bride, presided at the punch table.

Mrs. Wade received their guests wearing a lavender silk dress with white accessories and a corsage of white blossoms.

The mother of the groom chose a blue silk dress with white accessories and white carnation corsage.

Hancock County is truly the land of plenty. Plenty of mosquitoes, plenty of horse flies, plenty of gnats, plenty of house flies and plenty of sand flies.

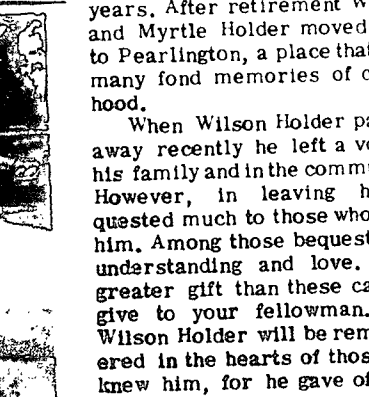

Thanks to Mrs. August Lader, "From Ansley," who are the proud owners of a beautiful shekel named Pepper. The pony was one of the numerous prizes given away at St. Ann's Fair. Husband, Jim held the winning ticket, but could not be notified because he was in a rush when he signed the ticket stubs and did not give our phone number. We recognize ourselves in Mrs. Lader's column by our Post Office Box number. Thanks again Mrs. Lader.

Visiting in our home over the Labor Day weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Jim N. Winstead and children Ricky, Cindy, and Penny of Jackson, Mississippi.

The first meeting of the Pearlport Parent-Teachers Organization for the 1970-71 school term, will be held on Monday night, September 14th in the Charles B. Murphy School cafeteria. All members are urged to attend.

George Wilson Holder, Sr., was born in Pearlport almost seventy years ago. As a young man, he moved to Laurel, Jones County, Mississippi where he helped to establish the first Masonite plant and was that plant's Plant Supervisor for 41 years. After retirement Wilson and Myrtle Holder moved back to Pearlport, a place that held many fond memories of childhood.

When Wilson Holder passed away recently he left a void in his family and in the community. However, in leaving he bequeathed much to those who knew him. Among those bequest were understanding and love. What greater gift than these can you give to your fellowman. Yes, Wilson Holder will be remembered in the hearts of those who knew him, for he gave of himself.

MISS EDITH ANN PERNICIARO OF BAY ST. LOUIS ACCEPTS DELIVERY OF HER CAMARO FROM LAMAR-LANE CHEVROLET SALESMAN JOE BERMOND.

Miss Edith Ann Perniciaro of Bay St. Louis wanted a Camaro ever since the 1970's hit the market. She finally made up her mind and visited Lamar-Lane Chevrolet and talked to her friend and salesman Joe Bermond about a new Camaro. She knew that she would receive the best of service, Joe Bermond and that she would get the best of service, because her brother Jack is the Service Manager for Lamar-Lane Chevrolet and that all of the service personnel are factory trained. Miss Perniciaro received a very good deal from Joe Bermond and she wants to recommend him to Lamar-Lane Chevrolet to all of her friends interested in buying a new car or truck. If you're been wanting to buy a new car or truck and have been putting it off, now is the time for the big deals at Lamar-Lane Chevrolet in Bay St. Louis, ask for salesman Joe Bermond, he could save you many dollars. Street Repairs

The condition of streets such as St. George, Nacala, and Bordin was pointed out by Mayor Carver at a recent meeting of the City Council and Arceneaux said he felt some immediate repairs were necessary if the streets were to be saved. He recommended the use of clay gravel as a temporary measure. Mayor Carver said the city now owns some equipment capable of making street and road repairs and trouble locations are being scheduled for repairs with all possible speed. A definite decision is expected next week on what will be done in the case of these badly damaged streets.

FORUM DELEGATES GAVE RAPT ATTENTION THURSDAY AS COMMUNIST WORKINGS WERE BARED . . .

Approximately 300 Mississippi Farmers for Freedom forum delegates received a dramatic education on the intimate workings of Communism in America and abroad as Dr. George S. Benson described Communist-inspired activities in the U.S. today and John Noble recounted sixteen years of slavery—six in the hands of Nazi, Germany and nearly ten in the hands of Communist Russia.

After Noble appeared on the program describing in great detail the inhumane treatment he received in a Siberian slave labor camp, delegates bought all of the books brought to the forum by Noble in which he recorded in fuller text the events of those years behind the iron curtain. The books are "IT WAS A SLAVE IN RUSSIA" and "I FOUND GOD IN SOVIET RUSSIA". If additional books are wanted they may be obtained by writing John Noble, Muncy, Pennsylvania, 17756, or through the Patriotic American Book Store, 124 South President, Jackson, at the rate of $1.45 for the former and $3.95 for the latter.

Boswell Stevens commented that the forum was one of the finest programs Farm Bureau has ever sponsored and any person who had an opportunity to attend but failed to do so missed one of the best programs available to him.

Medicaid Issues New I. D. Cards

New Medicaid identification cards were mailed last week to the State's approximately 200,000 Medicaid recipients, Dr. Alton Cobb, Director of the Mississippi Medicaid Commission, announced today.

The new cards are to replace the cards which are now held by recipients, and which have an expiration date of August 31, 1970 printed on them.

This new card, a stub attachment to the recipient's monthly Welfare check from the State Department of Public Welfare, will be mailed on September 3, 1970, and will be valid only for one month, Dr. Cobb explained.

"This new policy of sending monthly identification cards to Medicaid recipients is being implemented to improve the present system of issuing a Medicaid identification card valid for a four to five month period," Dr. Cobb said. "It should substantially reduce the number of Medicaid provider claims being returned because the holder of the card is no longer eligible for Medicaid benefits."

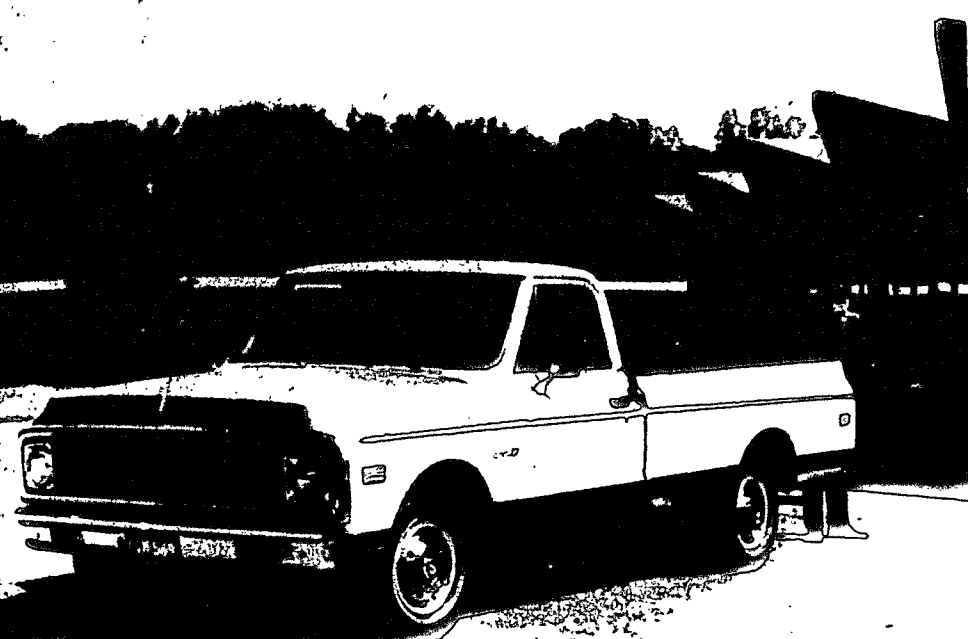

However, because the Welfare checks, to which cards are attached, are to be mailed on the 1st of each month and the cards are to expire at the end of the month, there will be a three to five day period each month during which current monthly cards will not be available to the Medicaid recipients. This is not expected to cause a problem because a relatively small number of Medicaid recipients become ineligible each month.

Providers of Medicaid services are being notified that they may verify the eligibility of a recipient with the County Departments of Public Welfare if they suspect that a recipient may no longer be eligible.

The Medicaid Program in Mississippi provides payment for inpatient and outpatient hospital care, skilled nursing home, physicians, pharmacists, laboratory, emergency ambulance, home health and limited dental services, and services necessitated by surgery for the State's needy citizens.

1971 CHEVROLET "CHEYENNE" FLEETSIDE PICKUP front disc brakes as standard equipment on all but Chevy Vans highlight the many improvements in the 1971 Chevrolet light-duty truck line. The disc brake system has a proportioning valve for more balanced braking between front and rear wheels and includes power assist standard equipment, except on half-ton pickups and chassis-cabs. Also new are a more active looking grille, improved cab seating and ventilation, and more powerful headlamps.

Optional features shown here include a striking white two-tone side panel, bright moldings, and Cheyenne model equipment with such luxuries as carpeting, deluxe trim, chrome bumpers, special insulation, and other items. Damages

The Hurricane damage lawsuit styled Leonard V. Ladner and wife, Mrs. Leonard V. Ladner, versus the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company, filed originally in the Hancock County Circuit Court has been removed to the U.S. District Court in Biloxi.

According to the suit, the Ladners contend their home sustained $19,000 damages which they attribute to high winds during Hurricane Camille. The couple are seeking the face amount of an insurance policy, $18,900 which they contend they had taken out with the company.

Vows Exchanged At Noon Ceremony

Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church was the setting for the wedding at high noon August 23 of Miss Kathryn Claire MacDevall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. K. MacDevall of Bay St. Louis, and Kevin Richard Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Edwards of Harrington Park, N.J.

Rev. Matthew Schulte of Baltimore, Maryland, performed the double ring ceremony before an altar trimmed with arrangements of white chrysanthemums and red roses. David Depree and Michael Jones served as altar boys.

Mrs. John McKenna, organist, accompanied Ken Anich on the organ and sang of joy.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a silk tulle gown over satin, a double ring ceremony before an altar trimmed with arrangements of white chrysanthemums and red roses. David Depree and Michael Jones served as altar boys.

Miss John MacDevall was the bride's maid of honor. She wore a floor length tulle gown with a green velvet ribbon around the waistline and full to the hemline. She wore a spray of white chrysanthemums in her hair and carried a nosegay of white chrysanthemums.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the St. Anne's dining hall.

The bride's table, overlaid with a linen cloth, was decorated with a four-tiered cake trimmed with sprays of red roses and white chrysanthemums. The top tier held the traditional bride and groom. Tall candles holding white tapers were on either side of the table. Mrs. A. C. Jones presided at the cake table and Mrs. Eido Depree kept the bride's register.

Mrs. MacDevall received

Dangers Of Hobby

Collecting old jars and bottles can be dangerous, according to Dr. Raymond Blaker, who is director of the Division of Preventable Disease Control with the Mississippi State Board of Health.

In discussing this statement with the Hancock County Health Department, Wayne Allison, head of the Sanitation Division, said: "The danger is in the cleaning of the bottles. Old bottles often contain lead or mercury, and the fumes of potash may have arsenic in the glass." A heavy metal poisoning could occur during inhalation of vapors created by cleaning these objects or by cooking in them, according to Allison, who added: "Heat alone can release vapors of heavy metals in bottles—especially when a cleaning solution is put in such as Chlorox."

Collectors of old bottles are urged to use the following precautions: Soak the bottles in water to get rid of loose residues. Then clean them in a detergent. Do the cleaning in a well ventilated room or out of doors.

Should there be a pungent odor or a burning of the eyes, this is a danger signal. Use rubber gloves and tongs while working on bottles. Old bottles were made before legal controls were strict and often contain ingredients dangerous in mixture with chemicals, Allison added. A last warning, remove stoppers and bottle caps while cleaning to avoid possible explosions from accumulated heat pressure.

Q - My father is permanently and totally disabled as a result of injury in Korea. If I marry, will I still be eligible for VA educational assistance?

A - Yes, if you are otherwise eligible, your marriage will not affect your eligibility for assistance.

Robert Joseph Lulich, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Olga Lulich, was recently baptized at St. Clare's Catholic Church with Rev. Walter Maloney, pastor, officiating.

Godparents were a maternal uncle, Don Rhodes, and Miss Charlotte Price.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the parents on Waveland Avenue.

ROADSIDE LITTER is becoming an increasingly alarming problem in Mississippi. The State Highway Department has poured almost $200,000 last year in efforts to clean-up all types of trash, cans and bottles dumped by motorists on state roads. The Highway Department asks motorists to cooperate in an attempt to keep our highways free from litter.

Unfair Distribution

W. J. Caraway, Executive President of the Mississippi Municipal Association, recently said the gross distribution in the distribution of gasoline tax and other taxes in Mississippi is unfair.

Senator Caraway said that if the city of Jackson received the 4-cents gasoline tax from the automobiles using our capital city's streets its city taxes could be greatly reduced and its city employees could be adequately paid.

It is the opinion of the Executive Vice President of the Mississippi Municipal Association that this extremely unfair condition will continue to exist until the citizens of the municipalities, who constitute over 50% of the population of the state, demand from their legislators a fair distribution of the gasoline tax and all other state taxes.

MICHAEL CAVE of Clermont Harbor, has been selected for inclusion in the Honors Program at the University of Southern Mississippi this fall. A sophomore, Cave is an education major. As an Honors Program student he will be offered special classes, open to men and women of exceptional ability. While in high school, he was a member of the National Honor Society.

total of $23,995,366 by the state of the tax to the counties and $3,089 to the cities out of $28,901,759. The Commission charged 1% of the gross amount for distributing and distributing their share of this charge was made to the

Cedar Rest Cemetery Information Needed

By Joe Pilot, Staff Writer

The Cedar Rest Cemetery, bounded by Second Street, Enderbrook, Toulme, and the property, designated as The Sea Coast Echo has been cleaned and put in condition by the Neighborhood Youth Corps, a project of Operation Upturn in Bay St. Louis.

Reports are that the ancient cemetery is now filled to capacity and frequently unmarked graves are disturbed by grave diggers who are charged with the responsibility of preparing interment. This city-operated plot, according to Mayor Warren J. Carver, has no known legend to enable a stranger to locate any certain grave.

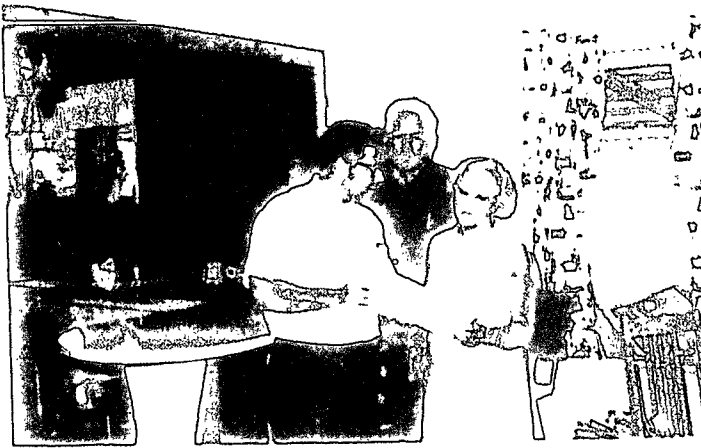

Possibly the oldest of the markers may be seen from the Second Street approach for near the sidewalk is a weather worn cedar slab marking the resting place of one George Arbo, born July 5, 1845, died November 30, 1907, a native of Canada. Another equally interesting marker is that of Mary Arbo, born 1845 and died November 30, 1885. There is in addition to this information the simple epitaph "At Rest".

Hurricane Camille wrought destruction and some of the finer marble markers have been broken with name markers missing. Still intact are a few of the old fine wrought iron fences so popular in yesteryears.

One of the largest, if not the largest magnolia tree within the city limits of Bay St. Louis remains, a silent and strong reminder of the days when Cedar Rest was a serene and beautiful plot, visited frequently by the survivors. Interesting too, is the plot marked George Washington Carver 1860-1936. An appeal is being made. Will anyone with knowledge of the history of Cedar Rest Cemetery please get in touch with Joe Pilot—telephone 467-5551. Information needed includes when the cemetery was established. What historically important people are buried in this plot. Who were the early caretakers. What were the restrictions. What price for the burial plots sell for in the yesteryears. What ancestors of now prominent Bay St. Louis families are buried in this plot. How many religious orders are represented. How many souls, indeed, have found a resting place here.

Although much has been done toward making Cedar Rest a cleaner cemetery, there are still many graves that are sinking or completely sunken. Some plots are weed covered and neglected. Many of the once beautiful cedar trees are dead or dying. Mayor Warren J. Carver announced the appointment of Felix Seeger, hired by the city to supervise all public grounds. Seeger will direct the landscaping and cleaning of Cedar Rest Cemetery as well as all city-owned property, according to the mayor.

ROBERT REIGHTLER of "Operations Upturn" hands Mrs. Eula McArthur of 507 Main Street a certificate of appreciation, while contractor Eric Larsen looks on. Teenage grandchildren love the newly added "Snack Bar" and play Elvis Presley records when they visit the recently up-graded home.

Library Denied Fund Increase

In a hearing before the Hancock County Board of Supervisors recently representatives from the City-County Public Library were told there could be no increase in the budget to provide additional funds needed for the operation of that institution.

Mrs. C. Watson Prindiville, Mrs. William Hilliker and Mrs. Norton Haas, all active members of the Library Board, pointed out the increasing number of people making use of library facilities saying recent circulation of books has "more than doubled".

The expenses of the Bookmobile service were cited and Mrs. Prindiville said funds must be set aside for replacement of the vehicle since there was much wear and tear on machinery when driven over rural roads. The van is said to make some 57 scheduled stops per week throughout the County with stops alternating every second week in order to serve the entire area.

Another expense item looming large for the City-County Library is a rental of $3,600 per year paid at the present location. Shelf space has filled to overflowing in this facility and although the Library owns land on Highway 90 for a planned future home they lack funds necessary to erect a building which would cost in the neighborhood of $200,000.

Elliott said gasoline for the Bookmobile was at a discount rate and he regretted funds would not permit an increase for library expenditures. He said he was aware of the fine service the institution rendered.

Warning Against Pesticide Strips

"Pesticide strips should not be used in confined areas", warned Wayne Alliston of the Hancock County Health Department. The Food and Drug Administration issued a release recently to the Hancock County Health Department in which Vapo Strips, made by the Shell Company under the name "No Pest" were said to contain a pesticide called DDVP which is released into the air continuously from a strip of plastic resin. The present label on the strips cautions: Do not contaminate food, water or feed-stuffs, however, the Federal

Sell With Classified

Department of Agriculture has recommended that the labels be re-worded to read: DO NOT USE IN KITCHENS, RESTAURANTS, OR AREAS WHERE FOOD IS PREPARED OR SERVED.

Alliston says patrons who are dining publicly should make a rule to observe whether or not any of these strips are hanging in the establishment, and if they are he would suggest that food not be ordered since contamination could cause illness. "These strips should not be used in confined areas where people will remain for an extended period of time such as hospitals, nursing homes, convalescent homes or sick rooms", Alliston added.

CHEVY'S NEW LITTLE CAR IS OPEN FOR BUSINESS.

We call it Vega.
We also call it "the little car that does everything well."
Because it does.

Everything? Everything.
Vega moves well, stops well, steers well, rides well, handles well, responds well, passes well, travels well, parks well, wears well, and is priced well under what you'd expect to pay for such a talented little car.

In our highway tests, Vega has been getting gas mileage in the neighborhood of the little imports, which isn't a bad neighborhood.

Yet unlike your average little car, ours steps right out when you step on the gas.

The engine is a specially designed overhead cam four with a lightweight aluminum alloy block. It turns slowly and quietly at turnpike speeds, with power to spare.

Disc brakes are standard in the front. So are bucket seats, except on the truck.

How we doing so far?

Numbers speak louder than words.

The wheelbase is 97 inches.
Total length is just under 170 inches, or nearly four feet shorter than a full-size Chevrolet.

Height of the coupe is just 50 inches, nine inches lower than the leading import.

Width: a nice stable 5 1/2 feet.
Weight: 2,190 lbs. for the sedan.
Engine displacement: 140 cubic inches.

Fuel economy: about 25 mpg, with the standard engine and transmission, in our highway tests.

Horsepower: 90. You can order 110 (80 and 93 hp, SAE Net).
Seating capacity: 4 adults.

What it all adds up to is a lot of little car.

Three cars and a truck.
Vega turned out so well that it couldn't turn out just one.

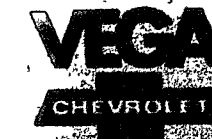

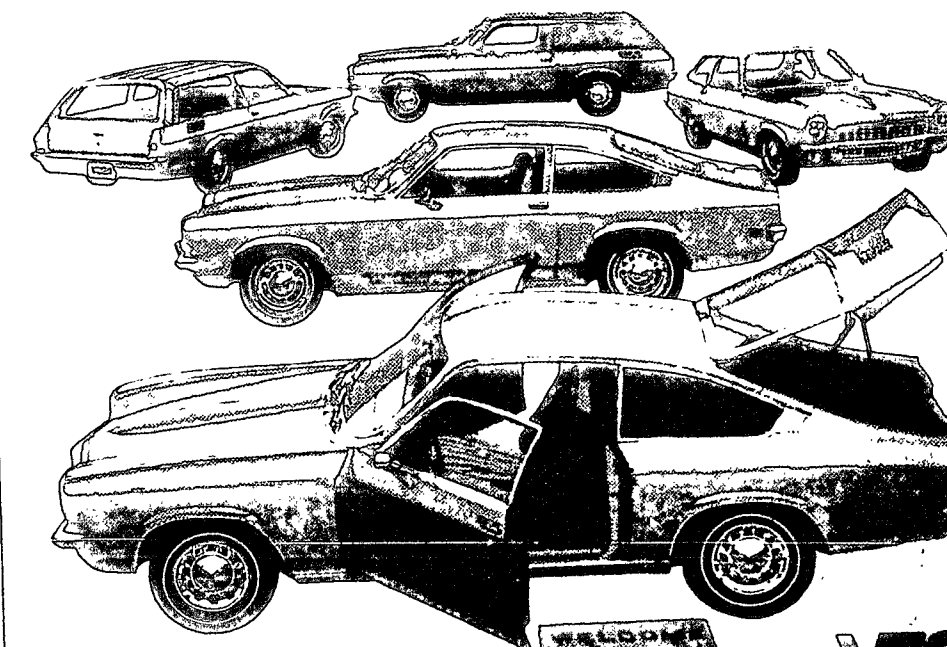

So we're turning out four: the sporty little hatchback coupe shown open and closed in the foreground below; the sedan, on the right; the Kammback wagon, on the left; and the little panel truck, in the rear.

Oh, and a special GT version of the coupe and wagon which we'll show you later on.

September 10th is Opening Day.

All 6,300 Chevrolet dealers are handling Vega, so you shouldn't have to go very far to see and drive one.

Chevy's new little car is open for business. Look into it.
